Petition Regarding Patent Term Adjustment (PTA)
Indicated in Notice of Allowance

Sir:

1. A Notice of Allowance was mailed on February 16, 2010 for the present application. One of the attachments to the Notice of Allowance was a Determination of Patent Term Adjustment Under 35 USC § 154(b) that indicated that the total patent term adjustment (PTA) to date is 0 days. It is believed that the correct total PTA to date is 300 days.

2. The determination of the total PTA of 0 days is erroneous because the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office's (PTO) PTA calculator failed to account for two separate PTO delays. The two PTO delay periods should have their days added together in accordance with the reasoning in Wyeth et al. v. Dudas, No. 07-1492 (D.D.C. September 30, 2008), aff'd Wyeth et al. v. Dudas, No. 2009-1120 (Fed. Cir. Jan. 7, 2010). The number of PTA credits of 366 days for PTO delay under 35 USC § 154(b)(1)(A) and 37 CFR § 1.702(a)(1) that is shown on the PTA History (Exhibit A) is correct and agrees with the credit calculated by the PTO. However, this delay only accounts for one of the delays of the PTO. The other delay warrants a PTA credit of 423 days for PTO delay under 35 USC § 154(b)(1)(B) and 37 CFR § 1.702(b). Because these two periods of delay do not overlap, Applicants are entitled to the sum of these two periods. Accordingly, a total PTA credit of 790 days (i.e., 366 days + 424 days) is appropriate based upon the PTO delay. The total number of PTA debits of 490 days for applicant delay that is shown on the PTA History (Exhibit A) is correct. Thus, the correct total PTA to date is 300 days.

3. Thus, Applicants believe that the total PTA credit for PTO delay is 790 days, the total PTA debit for applicant delay is 490 days, and the total PTA under 37 CFR § 1.703(f) is 300 days.

4. In accordance with 37 CFR § 1.705(b), this application for patent term adjustment is filed no later than the payment of the issue fee but after the date of mailing of the notice of allowance.

5. The following statements are required by 37 CFR § 1.705(b)(2)(i).

- i) The correct total PTA credit is 300 days.
- ii) The basis for the 366 days of PTA credit pursuant to § 1.702(a)(1) is due to the PTO's failure to mail a notification under 35 USC § 132 or a notice of allowance within 14 months of the application's filing date. The basis for the 424 days of PTA credit pursuant to § 1.702(b) is due to the PTO's failure to issue a patent within three years of the filing date.
- iii) The basis for the 490 days of PTA debit pursuant to § 1.704(b) is due to the Applicants' failure to reply to actions by the PTO within three months after the date on which the actions were mailed.
- iv) The total PTA under § 1.703(f) is projected to be 300 days, which is the total PTA credit for PTO delay of 790 days less the PTA debit for applicant delay of 490 days.

6. The following statements are required by 37 CFR § 1.705(b)(2)(ii).

- i) The relevant dates as specified in 37 CFR § 1.703(a)(1) for one part of the PTA credit are as follows: the date of March 22, 2005 which is the date that is fourteen months after the date on which the application was filed under 35 USC § 111(a); and the date of March 23, 2006, which is the mailing date of a notification under 35 USC § 121. Thus, the period of delay runs from March 22, 2005 to March 23, 2006. This period of delay is 366 days.
- ii) The relevant dates as specified in 37 CFR § 1.703(b) for the remaining part of the PTA credit are as follows: the date of January 22, 2007 which is the date that is three years after the date on which the application was filed under 35 U.S.C. 111(a); and the date on which the Request for Continued Examination was filed on March 21, 2008. Thus, the period of delay runs from January 22, 2007 to March 21, 2008. This period of delay is 424 days.

7. The following statements are required by 37 CFR § 1.705(b)(2)(iv)(A) and list circumstances during the prosecution of this application constituting a failure to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the above-identified patent application as set forth in § 1.704.

- i) The Response to Notice to file Missing Parts filed September 28, 2004 was filed after the three month period for filing a response. Under § 1.704(b), the period of adjustment for delay associated with this reply begins on the day after the date that is three months after the date of the mailing of the Notice to File Missing Parts on April 28, 2004 and ends on the date the reply was filed. Thus, the period of delay runs from July 28, 2004 to September 28, 2004. Thus this period of delay is 62 days.
- ii) The Response to the Restriction Requirement filed August 23, 2006 under 37 CFR § 1.136(a) was filed after the three month period for filing a response. Under § 1.704(b), the period of adjustment for delay associated with this reply begins on the day after the date that is three months after the date of the mailing of the Restriction Requirement on March 23, 2006 and ends on the date the reply was filed. Thus, the period of delay runs from June 23, 2006 to August 23, 2006. Thus this period of delay is 61 days.

- iii) The Amendment and Response to the Restriction Requirement filed February 26, 2007 was filed after the three month period for filing a response. Under § 1.704(b), the period of adjustment for delay associated with this reply begins on the day after the date that is three months after the date of the mailing of the Restriction Requirement on September 26, 2006 and ends on the date the reply was filed. Thus, the period of delay runs from December 26, 2006 to February 26, 2007. Thus this period of delay is 62 days.
- iv) The Amendment and Response filed July 6, 2007 under 37 CFR § 1.111 was filed after the three month period for filing a response. Under § 1.704(b), the period of adjustment for delay associated with this reply begins on the day after the date that is three months after the date of the mailing of the Non-Final Office Action on April 2, 2007 and ends on the date the reply was filed. Thus, the period of delay runs from July 2, 2007 to July 6, 2007. Thus this period of delay is 4 days.
- v) The Amendment and Response filed March 21, 2008 under 37 CFR § 1.111 was filed after the three month period for filing a response. Under § 1.704(b), the period of adjustment for delay associated with this reply begins on the day after the date that is three months after the date of the mailing of the Final Office Action on October 23, 2007 and ends on the date the reply was filed. Thus, the period of delay runs from January 23, 2008 to March 21, 2008. Thus this period of delay is 58 days.

- (vi) The Amendment and Response filed October 21, 2008 under 37 CFR § 1.111 was filed after the three month period for filing a response. Under § 1.704(b), the period of adjustment for delay associated with this reply begins on the day after the date that is three months after the date of the mailing of the Non-Final Office Action on April 22, 2008 and ends on the date the reply was filed. Thus, the period of delay runs from July 22, 2008 to October 21, 2008. Thus this period of delay is 91 days.
- (vii) The Amendment and Response filed June 18, 2009 under 37 CFR § 1.111 was filed after the three month period for filing a response. Under § 1.704(b), the period of adjustment for delay associated with this reply begins on the day after the date that is three months after the date of the mailing of the Final Office Action on December 19, 2008 and ends on the date the reply was filed. Thus, the period of delay runs from March 19, 2009 to June 18, 2009. Thus this period of delay is 91 days.
- (viii) The Amendment and Response filed November 25, 2009 under 37 CFR § 1.111 was filed after the three month period for filing a response. Under § 1.704(b), the period of adjustment for delay associated with this reply begins on the day after the date that is three months after the date of the mailing of the Non-Final Office Action on June 25, 2009 and ends on the date the reply was filed. Thus, the period of delay runs from September 25, 2009 to November 25, 2009. Thus this period of delay is 61 days.

8. Any patent granted on this application is not subject to a terminal disclaimer. See 37 CFR § 1.705(b)(2)(iii)

9. Applicant reserves the right to file a supplemental Request for Correction of PTA under 37 CFR § 1.705(d) in the event the patent issues on a date other than September 13, 2010.

Respectfully submitted,

Date: 3/8/2010
